

1st CIRCULAR

The Department of the History of Medicine (University of Crete), the Laboratory Paul Broca – Laboratoire d'Anthropologie Biologique (Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes) and the Research Unit 5199 PACEA (CNRS – University of Bordeaux – French Ministry of Culture) are organizing the 3rd International Conference on:

Biomedical Sciences and Methods in Archaeology

Bordeaux, France

6-9 November 2014

This Conference aims to highlight numerous new trends in bioarchaeology research that are made possible by the rapid development of current biomedical science and technology. These innovative approaches will shed new light on the mystery of human skeletal remains within their archaeological and historical contexts. Interesting debate on the use of bioarchaeological data as primary sources for the construction of the history of health and disease is expected during this conference. Researchers and scholars in the fields of medicine, history of medicine, bioarchaeology, medical and molecular genetics, medical imaging, paleopathology, physical anthropology, archaeology, and related disciplines are invited to participate.

Conference Topics:

- Bioarchaeological studies
- History of Medicine
- Biomolecular methods in archaeology
- Paleoradiology
- Paleohistology
- Paleoepidemiology
- Reconstruction of dietary patterns
- Paleopathology
- Paleoanthropology

Languages

The languages of the Conference are English and French.

Abstracts

Extended abstracts for podium and poster presentations of about 300 words should be submitted in English, by September 3rd.
