1. GENERAL INFORMATION

The ICAZ 12th International Conference will be held between 22 and 27 September 2014 in San Rafael (Mendoza, Argentina). Scheduled activities will take place mainly in the Convention and Exhibition Center in San Rafael (<http://www.congresos.mendoza.gov.ar/SanRafael/indexsanrafael.htm>).

On Thursday September 25th there will be no academic program activities; conference attendees may participate in archaeological and cultural excursions near the city of San Rafael. In addition, there will be more extensive field trips of Mendoza archaeology and geology after the conference.

San Rafael has a small domestic airport that receives a daily flight from Buenos Aires. Also nearby Mendoza City (230 km from San Rafael, an estimated 3 hours by bus) has an international airport that receives connections from Chile (via Santiago), Buenos Aires (Ezeiza and Jorge Newbery airports) and Cordoba. There are many ways to get to San Rafael from Mendoza City. More details about how to reach San Rafael can be found at www.ica2014argentina.com, but please address any questions to info@ica2014argentina.com. Information on accommodations can also be found at the same web page.

2. IMPORTANT DATES

- Call for abstracts for thematic sessions: until March 1st, 2014.
- Call for abstracts for general sessions: until March 30th, 2014.
- Deadline for early registration (with discount): March 30, 2014. This occurrence is mandatory for presenters (at least one author of the paper), session organizers, discussant and moderators of sessions.
- Beginning on line abstracts charging system: November 1, 2013.
- Beginning on line payment: February 1, 2014.
- The preliminary schedule will be available in April 2014.

3. MAIN SCIENTIFIC OBJECTIVES OF THE CONFERENCE

The main objectives of the conference are:

- To promote zooarchaeology as a field of growing importance for archeology and for understanding faunal paleodiversity;
- To strengthen archaeozoologists' interactions between all continents. The 2014 ICAZ meeting will focus particularly on strengthening ties with Latin American archaeozoologists;
- To introduce new methodologies in archaeozoology and discuss their scope and limitations when applied to different archaeofauna sets;
- To promote interactions between archaeozoologists and scientists from other disciplines in order to contribute to the development of new lines of research to help improve our understanding of the complex relationships between humans and animals.

4. INSTRUCTIONS

- Through March 1, 2014 abstracts for Thematic Sessions will be received online. The session organizers will inform the ICAZ Organizing Committee of the accepted papers in oral sessions. If appropriate, they can deliver a proposal to form a poster session. Papers that are not included in the Thematic Sessions may be submitted by March 30 as General Communications.
- Through March 30, 2014 abstracts for General Communications will be received at the online system.
- Paper presentations must be punctual to facilitate coordination of the overall program. If the Presenter is absent from the session that time will be free. The Organizing Committee will be attending and monitoring to ensure compliance with the schedule of ICAZ 2014.
- The Working Groups Coordinators may request ICAZ boardroom until March 1, 2014 by writing to info@icaz2014argentina.com

5. GUIDELINES FOR THE CONFERENCE

In order to ensure broad participation, avoid last-minute retractions, and promote participation in the ICAZ, the organizers of the congress resolve that:
